WHAT THE OWNERS OF THE HAYTIAN

REPUBLIC HAVE TO SAY.

They Will Not Give the Correspondence Between the Firm and Secretary Bay-ard, but Intimate that They Are Sure He Will See that Their Rights Are Protected-The Seizure Was Unlawful.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. Boston, Dec. 5.—The news that Secretary Bayard intended to send the steamer Galena to Hayti to demand the restoration of the Haytian Republic to her owners was taken to the office of B. C. Morse & Co., agents and owners of the Haytian Republic, 30 Commercial street, by an Evening World reporter this morning and the tidings caused evident pleasure, if not absolute joy, among the men our interests would be protected."

"Are you willing to make the correspondence public?" asked the reporter.

"Yes. And no. So far as we, as owners, are concerned, we have no objection, but as we have placed the matter in the hands of the State Department and are awaiting results we think it would be a breach of courtesy to divulge the exact language and programme of the letters which have passed between us. The Government is at present our attorney. Our case is in the hands of Secretary Bayard. We do not feel like making a move without his consent."

"Oan you tell THE EVENING WORLD the general nature of the correspondence then?"

"Oan you tell THE EVENING WORLD the general nature of the correspondence then?" was saked.

"Gisally. It has not been voluminous, and simply referred to what we know about the seizure. There was no argument outside of a bare statement of facts."

"How many letters have passed?"

"Oh, several. Not ten or a dozen, but several. They were all short and to the point. Of course, the first was a letter from us notifying the State Department that our steamer had been captured, and that we believed such ceiture to be unlawful and unwarranted. Later we were informed that our complaint would be investigated.

"After this several letters were sent informing us how matters were progressing."

"Did Secretary Bayard ever express the idea that the capture of the Haytian Republic was a breach of international courtesy?"

"Perhaps so, but not in those words. He informed us that he did not recognize the Government of Gen. Legitime as the ruling power in Hayti, and he was, therefore, of the opinion that the capture of our steamer was an unwarranted violation of the laws of nations."

"In other words, he thought you had a

"Did he say that the United States recog! aized any Government in Hayti?"
"I do not remember that he did. The blockade put on by Gen. Legitime was not known to the Government at Washington, and that fact alone was enough to make our claim good."

What do you propose to do now, Mr. "I propose to keep quiet and await the action of the United States. I am very well pleased with the way Secretary Bayard has conducted affairs thus far."

Mesers. Tord & Austin, the agents of the siezed steamship, were jubilant over Secretary Bayard's decision.

He had received no notification from the Secretary of the Navy that he was to order a vessel to Hayti, but he expected such notice within the next two or three days.

THE BRIDEGROOM OF A YEAR AGO.

Pat Divver's Young Sou-in-Law Followed to the Grave by Thousands.

The funeral to-day of James V. Coffey, husband of Jennie Divver, daughter of Alderman Pat rick V. Divver, of the old Fourth Ward, was one of the largest ever noted by the oldest resident in that historic district.

The body of young Mr. Coffey lay in the parlor of his father-in-law's house, 7 Madison street. The coffin was encircled with smilay and tea roses. Friends of the Divver family gathered by hundreds as carly as 0 o'clock to take a last look at the face of the dead and express their sympathy in tears and words of regret, and a hundred members of the Fat Divver Association assembled with black mourning badges on their coat lapels.

Supt. Murray and Inspector Steers. Congressmen-elect Dunphy and McCarthy. Aldermen Tait. Shells. Ryan. Fiyna and Noonan, Police Capt. Carpenter, Sergt. BEGINNING TO CRYSTALLIZE.

Who Will Be in Gen. Harrison's Cabinet Taking Shape.

Gen. Harrison's Cabinet solution is beginning to crystallize

James G. Blaine has arranged to take up his residence in Washington, which is said to mean that if he is not to be Secretary of State he will be the power behind the throne and grand director of the new Administration's policy. Vice-Chairman John S. Clarkson, of the Re-

Vice-Chairman John S. Clarkson, of the Republican National Committee, is pulling up his carpets and tagging his household effects. For Washington, and his intimate friends in Des Moines say that he has been offered and has accepted the Secretaryship of the Interior.

Next week Vice-President-elect Levi F. Morton will make the visit to Gen. Harrison, which The Eventso World was the first to announce.

Gen. Harrison has been notified to expect Mr. and Mrs. Morton on Wednesday of next week, and the New York banker will remain with the Harrison family for the balance of the week, probably.

Mr. Morton will be the messenger who will bear to Gen. Harrison the wishes and desires of the New York leaders and those of Mr. Blaine, and when he leaves the vexed question, who will be New York Cabinet representative and who is to pedde Federal natronage in the Empire State, will be definitely sattled.

Ex-Senator Platt is still looked upon as the Cabinet member. Mr. Morton is expected to plead for him and overcome Gen. Harrison's predilection in favor of Warner Miller.

Gen. Harrison's known regard for Miller, and his desire to reward him for his sacrifices in aid of the National ticket lead the Herkimar stateman's friends and supporters to believe that he will not be ignored, however.

Singar was a commodity that was only limited by the inability to manufacture.

The raw material was unlimited in supply and all that was required for its manufacture was espital and labor. There were other commodities that were by nature restricted in supply, and a combination to control such, for the purpose of increasing their value, might come under the head of a violation of the law.

Sugar was not a necessary of life, Mr. Carter argued, although it is so generally used by people over all the globe that it might be very nearly so considered.
